600 VICTIMS OF BOMBS

Czechs Watch Frontier As Election Continues

BY UNITED PRESS
China struck back fiercely today at the great Japanese offensive against the Chinese capital at Hankow.

While Japanese aerial bombs inflicted 600 casualties at Canton in the South, the powerfully reinforced invading armies on the north front were halted and driven back on their heels for the time being at least by Chinese counter attacks.

Most intense fighting was around Lenfeng, important point on the Lunghai railroad along which the Japanese are seeking to advance toward Hankow. Since their costly victory at Suchow, the Japanese had sought to move westward to Chengchow, envelop that city and then turn southward on Hankow. Again they appeared to have stretched their lines too far and too fast. Chinese cavalry and infantry slashed at them from all sides, with the outcome uncertain.

Dohira in Danger
One victim of the Chinese counter-attacks was the most mysterious figure in the Japanese conquest of China—Gen. Kenji Dohira, known as the "Lawrence of Manchuria" and reputed to be a combination of spy, agent, provocateur and military strategist. Jack Belden, United Press correspondent on the Chinese front, reported Dohira had received a jolting set-back and that his column was in danger of being wiped out.

The northern front fighting—comparable to the great battle for Suchow last week—was a blow to Japan's reorganized and army-dominated government which was

FARMERS BUSY CATCHING UP DELAYED WORK

Pickaway county farmers are busy from dawn to dark at the present time catching up on their delayed Spring work.

In general the land throughout the county is in good shape for working. Many farmers are completing their plowing, some are planting corn, others cultivating corn and haymaking is under way.
F. K. Blair, county agent, reported it was not unusual Saturday to see plowing, corn planting and cultivating all in progress at the same time on many farms.

Spring work on the farms has been irregular this year due to unusual weather conditions. Farm work was delayed for a time due to the dry weather, then heavy rains prevented field work.

Warm weather early in the season followed by heavy rains boosted the hay crop. Recent dry weather has resulted in haymaking being started.

The Winorr Canning Co. was making a test run on early peas Saturday. Howard Orr, manager, said he could not predict when the canning of the early crop would be in full swing. The plant expects to operate next week.
Canning of the crop, he explained, will depend largely on weather conditions.

TOLEDO CROWD HINDERS DAVEY CAMPAIGN TALK

TOLEDO, May 28—(UP)—
Gov. Martin L. Davey's first trip in Northwestern Ohio in his campaign for a third Democratic nomination culminated in a scene of wild confusion when he was hissed and booed during a speech here last night.

The governor was constantly interrupted by hecklers occupying one fourth of the auditorium and with whom he freely exchanged jibes, describing his tormentors as "part of John L. Lewis' communist gang."

"Come on down in front where I can see you," the governor shouted in one point. "You haven't got the guts."

A police cordon surrounded the "enemy" section, but made no attempt to stop the demonstration other than to warn hecklers to remain in their seats.

"Thank God, we still have liberty in America," Davey yelled above the tumult.

"Yes, and we still have the National guard," a heckler responded.

In one section of the hall the governor's supporters tried to drown out the boos by prolonged cheers as he exchanged sallies with the unfriendly section of the audience.

As the confusion mounted the governor pulled the microphone closer and said:
"This is the most un-American procedure I ever witnessed in Ohio. I'll win and my majority will be bigger for what you're trying to do."

HAGUE'S FORCES PUT McCONNELL OUT OF JERSEY

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 28.
—(UP)—Mayor Frank Hague's followers claimed a triumph for Americanism today after police had manhandled and deported Rep. Jerry O'Connell, D., Mont., who tested his right to free speech in Pershing Square last night and lost.

O'Connell was seized by policemen when he arrived at the square, which was swarming with 15,000 persons called out by Hague leaders for an "anti-communist" rally.

While policemen held him, one man from the crowd slapped his face, several others aimed blows at him but missed. One of these blows struck Daniel Casey, director of public safety, who had O'Connell in tow.

At a police station, O'Connell was held for an hour. Then he was placed on a subway train bound for Newark.

Mrs. O'Connell, meanwhile, had fled to Newark with friends and was treated for bruised knees. She said two policemen pushed her to the ground.

Reunited, the O'Connells took a train at Newark for Washington.

Remaining Issues

WASHINGTON, May 28—(UP)—
President Roosevelt summoned
New Deal forces from coast to coast today to a new tax battle which will extend through the general election and culminate next session in a congressional drive for corporate profits and capital gains taxes with teeth in them.

Division in the New Deal-Democratic leadership widened spectacularly as chairman Pat Harrison of the senate finance committee prepared to answer Mr.
Roosevelt's denunciation of the 1938 tax bill.

The principles of corporate profits and capital gains taxation automatically become primary issues in many election campaigns this year. A Democratic candidate will not be able to qualify for White House colors without unqualified endorsement of the Presi-

'QUINS' TREATED WITH ICE CREAM ON ANNIVERSARY

CALLENDER, Ont., May 28.—
(UP)—The Dionne quintuplets celebrated their fourth birthday today by tasting ice cream for the first time.

The international radio program on their birthdays of the famous girls, was discontinued this year, largely on request of papa and mama Dionne who objected to the "ballyhoo."

The party today was most quiet.
Only the quins' parents and their six brothers and sisters attended.
Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, who brought them into the world and has devoted his life to bringing them into a normal and healthy childhood, visited them early but left the Dafeo nursery after a short while.

The Dionne family will arrive en masse during the afternoon and play for a few minutes with the quins in the playground before all go into the nursery.

A large cake, without icing but bearing five large candles, one for each quins, will be on the center of a big table and around it will be grouped presents for the girls from their father, mother, sisters, brothers and other relatives together with those sent by admirers.

The quins received surprisingly few presents this year—compared with those of other birthdays—but there were nearly 500 cards, letters and telegrams.

The quins will entertain their guests with French-Canadian folk songs and impromptu dances.

NEW YORK POLICE TOLD MISSING GIRL IN OHIO

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y., May 28—(UP)—Police announced today that they had been informed that four-year-old Betty Jane Hobbs, missing since May 20, was still alive.

Police Chief Frederick A. Hoefert said that a woman had admitted taking the child to Columbus, O., and leaving her there. The woman, who had been sought since the child's disappearance, was brought to headquarters for questioning.

Previously, police announced they were satisfied that the golden-haired little girl had drowned in Niagara river.

Soon after the girl's disappearance, police arrested two men and held them several days without charge. However, they were later released.

FORD INAUGURATES NEW TIRE-BUILDING PROCESS

DEARBORN, Mich., May 28
—(UP)—Henry Ford is building a new industrial plant that when completed will transform crude rubber into a finished automobile tire in 3 1/2 to four hours.

E. F. Waite, plant manager, said the same process in an ordinary factory requires a week.

The new plant, costing $5,600,000, will furnish about 50 percent of the tires for Ford motor cars when it is completed within a few months. Waite said it is the first factory which will turn out the finished product straight from the hold of the ship carrying the crude rubber.

REWARD OF $50 OFFERED FOR BODY OF YOUTH

Mother Of Drowned Boy Appeals For Recovery
Before June 5

Reward of $50 for the recovery of the body of Clarence Fowler, 16, of Maplewood avenue and Huston street, who drowned in the Scioto river May 21, was offered Saturday.

The reward was posted by Mrs.
William Fowler, mother of the youth. Payment was assured also by J. Wallace Crist, guardian of the boy's father.

Payment of the reward is on condition the body is found before June 5.

The Scioto river was nearing its normal stage Saturday. Search for the body during the week had been hampered by flood waters.

Members of the sheriff's department and civilians have searched for the body during the last week.
It is believed the flood waters may have carried the body into shallow water or near the shores.

Fowler is believed to have been caught in a current. He was an inexperienced swimmer.

AUTO MAGNATES NAMED IN SOUTH BEND CHARGES

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 28—(UP)—United States District Attorney James R. Fleming announced today that federal authorities would "take into custody" Edsel Ford, Walter P. Chrysler, Alfred
P. Sloan, William Knudsen, and 46 other top executives of automobile and automobile finance corporations. They are under indultment here charged with violating the anti-trust laws.

The taking into custody was expected to be nominal only. Ford, Crysler, Sloan, Knudsen and the others will appear with their lawyers before United States Commissioners, probably today, it was believed, and post bonds guaranteeing their appearance in federal court here for trial.

Fleming announced that they and their corporations and corporations affiliated with them, would be tried late this Summer or early in the Fall.

The indictments charged that they had conspired to promote a monopoly and thereby caused irreparable damage to independent automobile finance companies.

Appeal Voiced to Avert Holiday Death Toll

CHICAGO, May 28—Avert the Memorial Day massacre!

This was the appeal issued today by the National Safety Council.

Unless the nation exercises greater caution in its celebration than in previous years, the Council warned, the three-day Memorial holiday will reap an ironic toll of killed and maimed—ironic because it may exceed that of some of the bloodiest battles of the Civil War which the holiday commemorates.

Ten rules for celebrating Memorial Day safely were issued by the Council.

May's total of accidental deaths shot up to 8,760—almost 1,000 more than the previous month.
The triple-threat of traffic, swimming and general overindulgence during the three-day holiday last year was held an important factor in the increase.

Drownings alone almost doubled from April to May last year, and traffic deaths, according to the Council, jumped 540 to a total of 3,210 for May.

Scores Hurt in Rubber Strike Riot at Akron

AT LEAST 100 persons, including a number of women and policemen, were injured during night riots around three strike-torn plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., in Akron, Ohio. Widespread fighting began about midnight Thursday after a strike of the United Rubber Workers union resulted in throwing a picket line around the plants. Sudden rioting broke out at the main gate to the Goodyear plant No. 1 after the midnight shift change.

Police are shown, above, attempting to disperse the crowd with bricks and stones and police were forced to use tear gas.

PRETTY GIRL, 23, HELD IN SOUTH AS SPY SUSPECT

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 28—(UP)—Immigration authorities will take Sylvia May Bradshaw, 23, a pretty brunette, before the British consul general today for questioning about photographs she made of U. S. army and air field bases and letters that she wrote to Germany.

Eugene Kessler, district immigration director, said "she flatly denies that her activities had any connection with espionage. She says she is English but she doesn't look or talk like an Englishwo-man."

He said the girl had admitted making pictures of Barksdale field, army air base near Shreveport where she was taken into custody on orders from Washington, and of several other military bases in this country.

"She denied that she had sent any appreciable number of letters to Germany but admitted she had friends in that country and had communicated with them," Kessler said.

A landlady in Shreveport was said to have reported that the girl "might be a foreign spy, because she always carried a camera and wrote letters three times a week to Germany." This rumor had reached federal authorities in Washington.

BOSTON CLUB WANTS NEW DEAL FOE FOR PRESIDENT

BOSTON, May 28—(UP)—The (Theodore) Roosevelt Club of Boston, today proposed that the Republican party in 1940 nominate for president an anti-New Deal Democrat.

Its directors unanimously approved a resolution stating that the club, in a "spirit of generous, sound and vital cooperation . . .
believes that the exigencies of the hour demand that the Republican party, in 1940, should endorse for president an anti-New Deal Democrat, and preferably from the South."

Carroll Youth, Acquitted, May Be Free in Few Days

NEW YORK, May 28—(UP)—Donald Carroll, 16, acquitted "by reason of insanity" of slaying his sweetheart, Charlotte Matthiesen, 18, awaited mental examination, today, expecting to be free and reunited with his and her parents within 10 days.

The trial, involving the elementary sexual problems of high school youths and the duties of parents in educating their children for mixed companionships, ended at 6:34
p. m. yesterday amid such a jubilant uproar that Judge Thomas Downs cleared the courtroom and threatened spectators with jail terms.

The boy's parents, hysterical with anxiety, were across the street at the defense attorney's office. Charlotte's parents, Fred Matthiesen and his wife, were seated in the front row, keeping the family vigil on the boy who had admitted killing their only child because she was about to bear him a child and they were afraid to tell their parents. Donald said he planned to kill himself too, but lost his courage after killing her, at her request.

Mrs. Matthiesen was one of the first to reach his side after the jury reported. Tears streaming down her face, she hugged and kissed him.

"I prayed for him," she said,
as guards pulled her away. "I knew my girl would want it that way. We can make many things good now. I teased my girl too much. I didn't take her seriously in her affairs with boys. Now
I have to make it up to Donald."

The blond, handsome boy looked

BORDER TO U. S. GUARDED AFTER CEDILLO FLEES

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico,
May 28—(UP)—Federal authorities have ordered border agents to keep a close watch for Gen. Saturnino Cedillo in the belief that he may be fleeing toward the United States, it was reported today.

Three squadrons of planes and thousands of troops began a search through the rough country of San Luis Potosi, believing that Cedillo, afraid, was hiding in the hills and watching for a chance to break through a tightening government cordon.

Two rebel planes were captured by federal troops yesterday and federal authorities asserted jubilantly that these constituted the last of the insurgent aircraft.

HENDERSON TO RETURN

Judge Phil A. Henderson of Logan, who has been serving in Common Pleas court since the illness of Judge J. W. Adkins, will return to the city on June 6 to hear matters before the court and probably assign cases on the criminal docket for trial.

FEDERAL LABOR BOARD MEMBER, OFFICIALS MEET

Goodyear Plant Scheduled To Reopen Tuesday After Week-end Shutdown

POLICE LEAVE FACTORY

Union To Keep 10 Pickets
At Each Gate

AKRON, May 28—(UP)—James
P. Miller, regional director of the National Labor Relations board, confers today with representatives of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers in an attempt to settle disputes that led to a riot in front of the Goodyear plant yesterday in which more than 100 persons were injured.

A truce had brought utter peace and quiet to the battleground around the great rubber processing plant. It had been closed down by the company to avoid further trouble. The union withdrew all pickets for the night, but announced that it would post 10 pickets at each of the plant's gates today. Ten pickets at one place is the maximum allowed by an Akron ordinance.

The police too had withdrawn.
Yesterday morning approximately 200 policemen battled approximately 1,000 unionists and their sympathizers. Early today only three policemen were on duty at the plant.

Plant Reopens Tuesday
Miller hoped to settle the differences between the company and the union before Tuesday when the plant is scheduled to reopen. The union has made six demands on the company. They are: no transfers of workers out of line of seniority; all necessary transfers to be made so as to give a more equal division of time; strict observance of seniority on all jobs held by employees with less service than employees laid off or out of jobs, provided they qualify; no use of accumulated service to hold a job over persons laid off who had more service at time of layoff; no overtime work unless approved as emergency by committeemen and the plant legislative committee or a union official; all wage or rate adjustments to be agreed on by a joint committee of union and management.

The truce was arranged yesterday afternoon by Miller and Akron officials as the situation threatened to become more serious. Leaders of the Teamsters union, which is an A. F. of L. affiliate, and leaders of the Bus Drivers' union, a C. I. O. affiliate, had threatened to call a general transportation strike in sympathy with the Rubber Workers union, also a C. I. O. affiliate.

Payment of the reward is on condition the body is found before June 5.

The Scioto river was nearing its normal stage Saturday. Search for the body during the week had been hampered by flood waters.

Members of the sheriff's department and civilians have searched for the body during the last week. It is believed the flood waters may have carried the body into shallow water or near the shores.

Fowler is believed to have been caught in a current. He was an inexperienced swimmer.

AUTO MAGNATES NAMED IN SOUTH BEND CHARGES

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 28.—(UP)—United States District Attorney James R. Fleming announced today that federal authorities would "take into custody" Edsel Ford, Walter P. Chrysler, Alfred P. Sloan, William Knudsen, and 46 other top executives of automobile and automobile finance corporations.

They are under indictment here charged with violating the anti-trust laws.

The taking into custody was expected to be nominal only. Ford, Chrysler, Sloan, Knudsen and the others will appear with their lawyers before United States Commissioners, probably today, it was believed, and post bonds guaranteeing their appearance in federal court here for trial.

Fleming announced that they and their corporations and corporations affiliated with them, would be tried late this summer or early in the fall.

The indictments charged that they had conspired to promote a monopoly and thereby caused irreparable damage to independent automobile finance companies.

Scores Hurt in Rubber Strike Riot at Akron

AT LEAST 100 persons, including a number of women and policemen, were injured during night riots around three strike-torn plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., in Akron, Ohio. Widespread fighting began about midnight Thursday after a strike of the United Rubber Workers union resulted in throwing a

PRETTY GIRL, 23, HELD IN SOUTH AS SPY SUSPECT

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 28.—(UP)—Immigration authorities will take Sylvia May Bradshaw, 23, a pretty brunette, before the British consul general today for questioning about photographs she made of U. S. army and air field bases and letters that she wrote to Germany.

Eugene Kessler, district immigration director, said "she flatly denies that her activities had any connection with espionage. She says she is English but she doesn't look or talk like an Englishwoman."

He said the girl had admitted making pictures of Barksdale field, army air base near Shreveport where she was taken into custody on orders from Washington, and of several other military bases in this country.

"She denied that she had sent any appreciable number of letters to Germany but admitted she had friends in that country and had communicated with them," Kessler said.

A landlady in Shreveport was said to have reported that the girl "might be a foreign spy, because she always carried a camera and wrote letters three times a week to Germany." This rumor had reached federal authorities in Washington.

BOSTON CLUB WANTS NEW DEAL FOE FOR PRESIDENT

BOSTON, May 28.—(UP)—The (Theodore) Roosevelt Club of Boston, today proposed that the Republican party in 1940 nominate for president an anti-New Deal Democrat.

Its directors unanimously approved a resolution stating that the club, in a "spirit of generous, sound and vital cooperation . . . believes that the exigencies of the hour demand that the Republican party, in 1940, should endorse for president an anti-New Deal Democrat, and preferably from the South."

Appeal Voiced to Avert Holiday Death Toll

CHICAGO, May 28.—Avert the Memorial Day massacre! This was the appeal issued today by the National Safety Council.

Unless the nation exercises greater caution in its celebration than in previous years, the Council warned, the three-day Memorial holiday will reap an ironic toll of killed and maimed—ironic because it may exceed that of some of the bloodiest battles of the Civil War which the holiday commemorates.

Last year, the Council said, May's total of accidental deaths shot up to 8,760—almost 1,000 more than the previous month. The triple-threat of traffic, swimming and general overindulgence during the three-day holiday last year was held an important factor in the increase.

Drownings alone almost doubled from April to May last year, and traffic deaths, according to the Council, jumped 540 to a total of 3,210.

FEDERAL LABOR BOARD MEMBER, OFFICIALS MEET

Goodyear Plant Scheduled To Reopen Tuesday After Week-end Shutdown

POLICE LEAVE FACTORY

Union To Keep 10 Pickets At Each Gate

AKRON, May 28.—(UP)—James P. Miller, regional director of the National Labor Relations board, confers today with representatives of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers in an attempt to settle disputes that led to a riot in front of the Goodyear plant yesterday in which more than 100 persons were injured.

A truce had brought utter peace and quiet to the battleground around the great rubber processing plant. It had been closed down by the company to avoid further trouble. The union withdrew all pickets for the night, but announced that it would post 10 pickets at each of the plant's gates today. Ten pickets at one place is the maximum allowed by an Akron ordinance.

The police too had withdrawn. Yesterday morning approximately 200 policemen battled approximately 1,000 unionists and their sympathizers. Early today only three policemen were on duty at the plant.

Plant Reopens Tuesday

Miller hoped to settle the differences between the company and the union before Tuesday when the plant is scheduled to reopen. The union has made six demands on the company. They are: no transfers of workers out of line of seniority; all necessary transfers to be made so as to give a more equal division of time; strict observance of seniority on all jobs held by employees with less service than employees laid off or out of jobs, provided they qualify; no use of accumulated service to hold a job over persons laid off who had more service at time of lay-off; no overtime work unless approved as emergency by committee and the plant legislative committee or a union official; all wage or rate adjustments to be agreed on by a joint committee of union and management.

The truce was arranged yesterday afternoon by Miller and Akron officials as the situation threatened to become serious. Leaders of the Teamsters union, which is an A. F. of L. affiliate, and leaders of the Bus Drivers' union, a C. I. O. affiliate, had threatened to call a general transportation strike in sympathy with the Rubber Workers union, also a C. I. O. affiliate.

RECREATION BALL LEAGUE OF EIGHT TEAMS RESUMES PLAY TUESDAY

CLEANERS AND CAIN'S MARKET OUTFITS PITTED

Several Rules Set Up As Managers Meet; Split Season Voted

Penton Cleaners and Cain's food market of the South Bloomfield will play off the 12 Tuesday evening when the Circleville recreation season resumes play. Only one game has been played to date, the Ralston-Purina team defeating the Circleville Oils before heavy rain made the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. field a quagmire.

Other games next week will pit Bronzeville Jollies against Blue Ribbon dairy on Wednesday, and Eshelman Feeds against Glitt's food market on Thursday. The Glitt team was added to the league Friday evening at a meeting of managers in The Daily Herald office.

The schedule for the first round has been drawn up with each team playing each other once. The first round, barring postponements, will end July 11.

Rules Established

The managers set up several rules that will be followed during the season. All managers will be responsible for their players' conduct on the field. Umpires will have authority to expel a player from the game for profanity or any other conduct that is contrary to good fellowship. No runs may be scored on passed balls; there will be no bunting on the third strike; the batter cannot run to first base on a dropped third strike; baserunners may leave their positions as soon as the ball leaves the pitcher's hand, in an effort to steal bases; regulation softball spikes may be used on shoes, but not baseball spikes, which are longer than three-eighths of an inch.

Each team will be permitted to list 15 players; if the manager is a player, then the roster may include only 14 others. The final player list must be submitted before the second game is played. Any changes in team rosters after that time may be made only with consent of a majority of managers.

The schedule for the second week of play follows:

Monday: Ralston-Purina vs. Fenton Cleaners.
Tuesday: Circleville Oils vs. Cain's market.
Wednesday: Bronzeville Jollies vs. Glitt's market.
Thursday: Blue Ribbon Dairy vs. Eshelman Feeds.
Friday: Ralston-Purina vs. Cain's market.

OWENS FAILS TO SURVIVE STATE 440 COMPETITION

Bob Owens, brilliant Circleville high school dash man, failed to qualify for the finals of the quarter mile of the state track meet, Friday, when he appeared in preliminaries at the Ohio stadium.

Owens and other members of the Red and Black squad were back in Columbus, Saturday, to compete in the mile relay. Kenneth Smith was to run the half mile event and Owens, K. Smith, H. Smith and Woodward were scheduled for duty in the relay.

The highest price paid for an antique was $44,000 which a Chipendale highboy once brought.

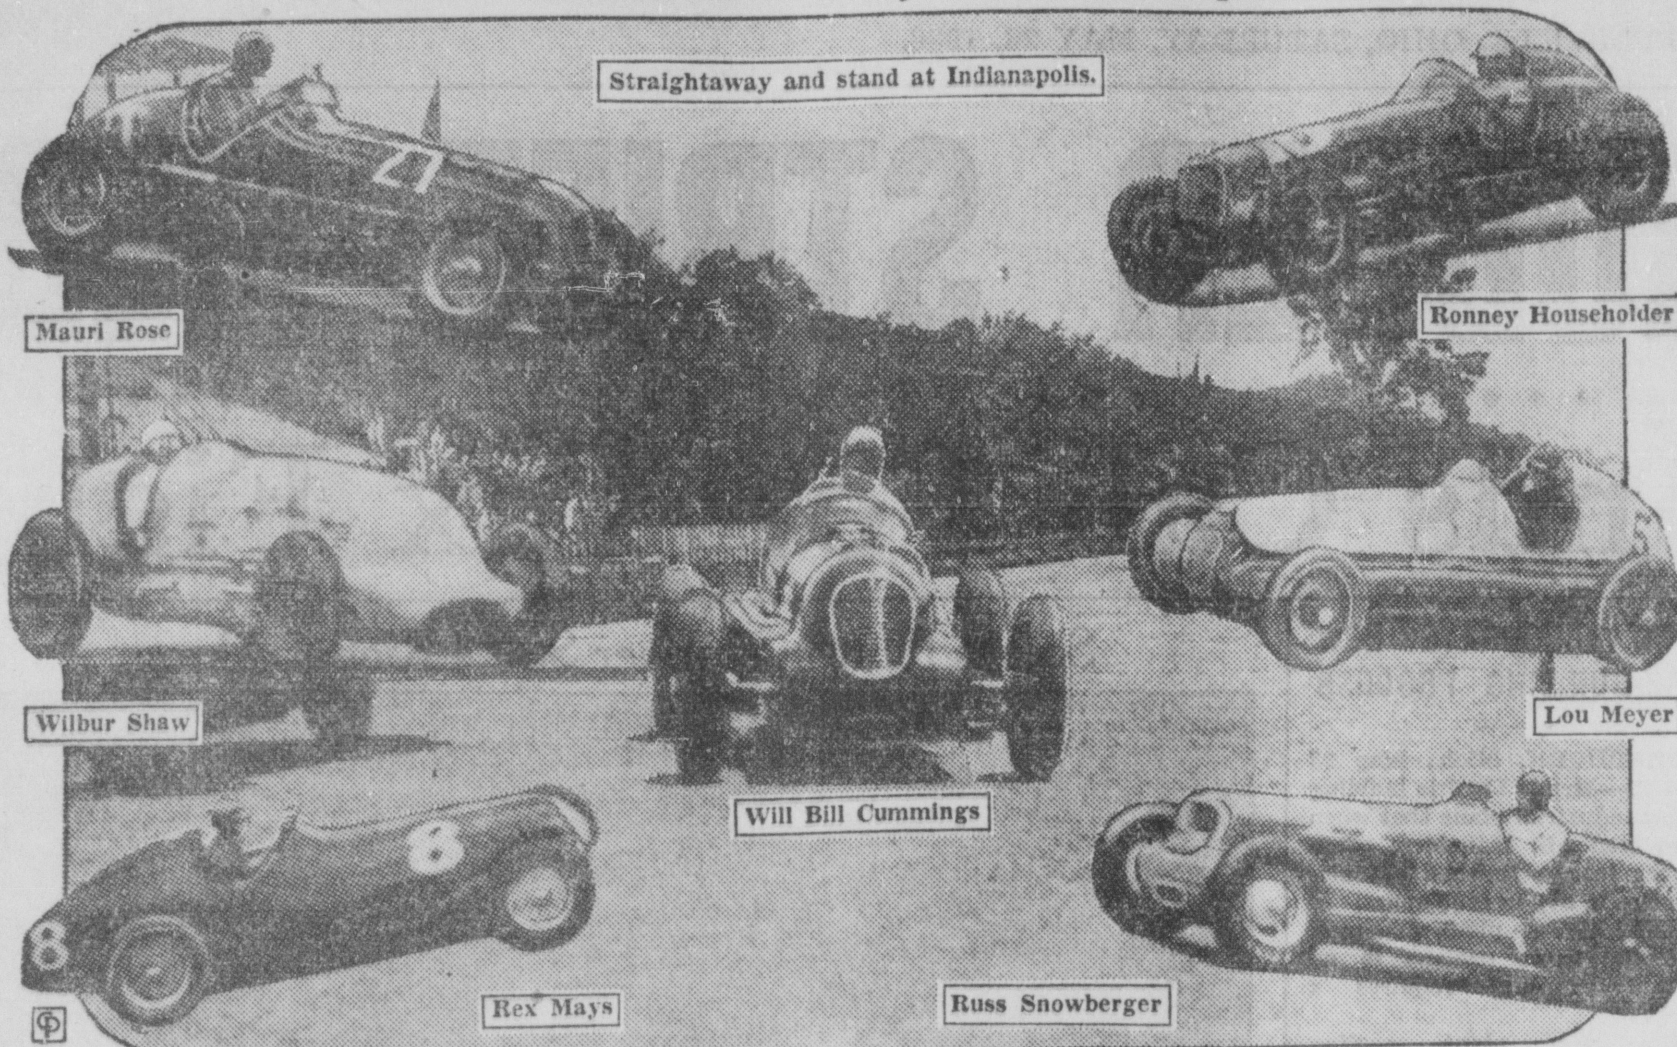

Golfer Should Watch Important Factors

BY WILLIAM BOWMAN
Pickaway Club Professional

You often hear some golfer remark that if he could keep his head down, or still, he would be able to make a good golf shot. Such remarks are made casually, but there is truth in it to the core. Many wonder just why the head plays such an important part in the golf shot. But it does that very thing. The head should never move up or down or to either side. Some object on the head should be taken for example. The nose is a good basis. Make a small spot on a looking glass and try holding your nose on it through the swing, or place your back to the sun and set a tee on the head of your shadow, go through the swing and see how much your head remains in one spot. If it does, you have something. If it doesn't practice until you get it and then you are on the way to a better golf stroke.

After we have mastered the head, our next attention is the arms. The arms naturally play a very important part in the golf stroke. Very few people realize just why the left is kept straight at the elbow. The left is the guide

Drivers Seek Gold and Glory on 500-mile Speed Trail

A GLIMPSE of the Indianapolis speedway, where thousands will gather on Memorial Day for the annual 500-mile automobile race, is pictured, with some of the drivers who will turn up the bricks in quest of the $100,000 in prizes. Wilbur Shaw was winner of last year's race, with an average of more than 112 miles an hour. This year a new speed record is expected, as drivers will be alone and there are no restrictions on fuel. Ronney Householder set a new speed record in qualifying this year with 125.769 miles an hour.

Grid Book Demand Shows Several O. S. U. Sellouts

COLUMBUS, May 28.—An unprecedented demand for general public season football tickets for the Ohio State university games next fall has led Henry D. Taylor, director of ticket sales, to predict three and perhaps four complete home game sellouts.

"Never since we have offered season books to the general public has there been such a demand for them," Taylor said today. "During the first two days of the sale nearly 1,000 orders were received. This rush may force us to close the season sale earlier than we had anticipated."

The sale opened May 25 and is scheduled to continue until August 15.

Taylor predicted sellouts for the Indiana, Southern California and Michigan games. The Chicago game may develop into a sellout. Reason for a Chicago sellout is that the game will be the second of two high school days sponsored by the University this fall. The first school day will be October 1, the day of the Indiana game, the opening tilt on the 1938 schedule. Second high school day will be on October 22 when the Bucks meet Chicago at the midpoint in the schedule.

The decision to hold two high school days were reached last fall when 432 schools were unable to gain admission to the opening game because of a sellout. This fall students from cities initiated from A to L inclusive will be invited to the Indiana game and those initiated from M to Z will attend the Chicago game.

GOLFERS COMPETE FOR PRIZES AND LORMS CUP

Golfers of the Pickaway Country club will have two contests during the Memorial Day week-end. A blind bogey tournament will be staged Sunday with merchandise prizes to be awarded winners. On Monday, Decoration Day, the Lorms cup will be sought. This is given to the golfer having the lowest net score, the handicap being deducted from his gross count.

If the weather continues as it has been the last few days, the Country club course will be crowded with golfers.

LATE STARTERS SEEK PLACES IN SPEEDWAY RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 28.—(UP)—A handful of late starting drivers rushed out on the Indianapolis Speedway today to land the five remaining positions in the famed 500 mile race Memorial day.

Deadline for trial spins was 4 p. m. and still unqualified were several noted American drivers and Italy's star, Tazio Nuvolari. Cliff Bergere, of Hollywood, Billy Winn, Detroit, Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, Billy Devore, St. Johns, Kan., and Deacon Litz of Dubois, Pa., all scheduled last minute trials today.

Nuvolari, offered one of Joe Thorne's cars, finally announced that he had not found a suitable mount.

Louis Tomei of Culver City, Cal., led yesterday's five qualifiers with a 25 mile average of 121.594 miles per hour after failing in his first trial. Tomei jammed the throttle of his P. O. B. Perfect Seal special and halted his opening attempt.

Others to qualify yesterday were Emil Andres, dirt track graduate, 117.126, Ira Hall of Terre Haute, Ind., 118.255, Tony Willman, Milwaukee, Wis., 118.458 and Harry McQuinn, Milwaukee, 119.492. Hall, who said he is "about 50," is one of the oldest ever to compete in the "500."

Hepburn, second to Wilbur Shaw last year, said motor trouble may force him out of the race. His car, designed by Harry Miller, is having motor trouble and Hepburn was not sure whether it could be repaired before tomorrow's deadline.

ADMIRAL SEEKS TO PASS SIRE'S EARNING TOTAL

NEW YORK, May 28.—(UP)—War Admiral tries today to outdo his illustrious daddy, Man O' War. The four-year-old Admiral, at the top of his form when his $100,000 special race with Seabiscuit was called off, runs in the 52nd renewal of the mile and quarter Suburban handicap at Belmont Park.

And if little Charley Kutsinger boots him home a winner, his total earnings will zoom past his sire's $249,465 mark. War Admiral, who has won 10 straight since his last defeat when he was a two-year-old back in October, 1936, has won $231,625 in 16 starts. Today's race will be worth about $20,000 to the winner—and it looks like War Admiral all the way.

The Admiral's chief opposition is expected to come from a pair of horses which inhaled his dust last year—Pompoon and Masked General—and Aneroid, Suburban winner in 1937 and creator of the record time of 2:01 3/5 for the event. Five other horses—Piccolo, Cabalero II, Snark, Strabo and Rex Flag—are entered.

War Admiral, 4-5 favorite in the overnight betting and scheduled to carry top weight of 132 pounds, whipped Pompoon three times last year and halted Masked General once. Pompoon was second favorite at 4-1; Aneroid was 6-1 and the General was 10-1.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Gabby Hartnett, Cubs' 37-year-old catcher, who hit two singles and a homer in leading Chicago to a 5-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

GRISSOM FINDS POSITION TAKEN BY YOUNG STAR

Johnny Vander Meer Beats Cardinals In Great 2-1 Contest

CINCINNATI, May 28.—(UP)—A year ago the Cincinnati Reds came up with the National League's outstanding rookie southpaw pitcher in Lee Grissom, and today the club appears set to duplicate the feat with Johnny Vander Meer.

Off to a slow start, Vander Meer has had trouble getting into a winning stride but he seems to have hit it now. The stocky left-hander went 10 innings here last night as the Reds edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2 to 1 before a crowd of 21,550 fans.

Vander Meer, whose greatest difficulty has been his control, was "right" last night. He gave up only two base on balls and was in serious trouble only twice.

The Cardinals obtained only five hits and Vander Meer completely silenced the big bats of the great Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize.

St. Louis scored its lone run in the fourth inning when "Pepper" Martin doubled to open the round and took third on a wild pitch. He scored as Guttridge flied out. Held to four hits in the first six innings, Cincinnati knotted the score in the seventh when Billy Myers singled, advanced on Vander Meer's sacrifice and scored as Linus Frey doubled down the right field line.

St. Louis threatened in the ninth when it filled the bases with two out on a walk, an error and an intentional pass. Vander Meer then forced Mize to foul out to end the inning.

The Reds winning counter came in the 10th after two were out on successive doubles by Virgil Davis and Harry Craft.

Cincinnati was to go to Dayton today for an exhibition game with that city's entrant in the Mid-Atlantic league.

DUDLEY AND KY LAFFOON KEEP SLIGHT MARGIN

TOLEDO, May 28.—(UP)—Ed Dudley and Ky Laffoon today sought to withstand another double challenge from a star-studded field to protect their lead in the fourth annual Inverness Invitational golf tournament.

Dudley and Laffoon managed to gain an even break in two matches yesterday, but still held a three point lead over their nearest competitors, Willie Goggin and Frank Walsh. Dudley and Laffoon have a Plus Six Rating, Goggin and Walsh, a Plus Three Rating.

Dudley and Laffoon were beaten 1 up by Jimmy Thomson and Tommy Armour and then regained the one point lost in that match by downing Henry Picard and Johnny Revolita by the same margin.

Today's pairings sent the leaders against Horton Smith and

Gabby's Ability Aids Chicagoans

NEW YORK, May 28.—(UP)—His face is tomato red and his shortcropped hair is streaked with gray. He's big and boisterous, and he puffs like a steam engine chugging up a steep incline. He laughs like a trouper and is pretty good at swearing, too.

His name is Charles Leo Hartnett, but he's known far and wide as "Gabby"—that is, to everyone except ball players who call him Leo. Without him the Cubs wouldn't be tagging at the New York Giants heels in the hot National League pennant race because he is the spirit of the Chicago team with his rough and ready play. His clenched fist shaking above his head in the tight spots is the symbol of the Cubs' new fighting spirit.

Again yesterday Hartnett, who at 37 is the third oldest player in the National League and the oldest playing every day, sparked the Cubs to victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-0. He hit a home run with two mates on base, and ripped out two singles, enabling the Cubs to move within two games of the idle New York Giants.

In 1,731 Contests

Hartnett has appeared in 1,731 games during his 17 years with the Cubs. If he catches 100 games this season he will become the first man in baseball history to catch over 100 games each season for 13 years.

Joe McCarthy among others ranks Hartnett as the greatest catcher of all time, and oldtimers like Clark Griffith agree.

Hartnett's catching yesterday helped to steady Big Bill Lee in a shaky ninth inning enabling the Cubs' right-hander to score his third straight victory and pull through with a shutout. Lee allowed only six hits in winning his fourth game. In the ninth Vaughan singled off Lee's pitching hand and caused him to lose control so that he walked Suhr and Rizzo to fill the bases. But he came through and halted the rally. The Cubs made 10 hits off Klingler, Swift and Sewell.

Detroit defeated the Chicago White Sox, 5-2, in the only American League game and moved within .007 percentage points of fifth place. Vernon Kennedy kept the White Sox six hits scattered and won his seventh straight game. Hank Greenberg hit a 440-foot homer, his 11th of the year, giving him the American League lead. Pete Fox's double drove in two of the Tiger's runs.

Reds Edge Cards

The fourth place Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals put on a grand exhibition in the season's first night game, with the one time Gas House gang dropping their seventh straight—2-1, in 10 innings. It was a nip-and-tuck pitchers battle with John Vander Meer of the Reds setting down 10 Cards on strikes, and Bill McGee whiffing eight Cincinnati batsmen.

In the preliminaries yesterday the Redskins qualified 10 men for the finals of two hurdle events and the 100 yard dash. Ohio University was next in line with nine. Ohio Wesleyan garnered five qualifying places, Cincinnati three, Dayton two and Marshall one.

The best performance of the trials was turned in by Jack Padley, versatile Dayton star, when he won the 100 yard dash in 9.9 seconds. Padley, voted the state's outstanding individual football star last fall, also qualified in the 220 yard dash.

Four records are regarded as in danger of being broken today. They were in the javelin throw; the 440 yard dash; the one mile run; and the mile relay.

The 440 was looked upon to be one of the meet's features. It figured to be a bitter three-man duel among Skolik of Marshall; Cunningham of Ohio U. and Seni of Miami.

Miami, the favorite in the team fight, scored dual victories over all other conference teams during the regular season.

Harry Cooper in their first match and against Sam Snead and Vic Ghezzi in their second.

The standing of other teams in the $4,600 links meet follows: Smith and Cooper, plus two; Gene Sarazen and Dick Metz, plus one; Snead and Ghezzi, minus three; and Lawson Little and Jimmy Demaret, minus six.

A team is given a "plus" for each hole it finishes "up" on an opponent, and a "minus" for each hole it is "down."

Grid Book Demand Shows Several O. S. U. Sellouts

COLUMBUS, May 28—An unprecedented demand for general public season football tickets for the Ohio State university games next fall has led Henry D. Taylor, director of ticket sales, to predict three and perhaps four complete home game sellouts.

"Never since we have offered season books to the general public has there been such a demand for them," Taylor said today. "During the first two days of the sale nearly 1,000 orders were received. This rush may force us to close the season sale earlier than we had anticipated."

The sale opened May 25 and is scheduled to continue until August 15.

Taylor predicted sellouts for the Indiana, Southern California and Michigan games. The Chicago game may develop into a sellout. Reason for a Chicago sellout is that the game will be the second of two high school days sponsored by the University this fall. The first school day will be October 1, the day of the Indiana game, the opening tilt on the 1938 schedule. Second high school day will be on October 22 when the Bucks meet Chicago at the midpoint in the schedule.

The decision to hold two high school days were reached last fall when 432 schools were unable to gain admission to the opening game because of a sellout. This fall students from cities initiated from A to L inclusive will be invited to the Indiana game and those initiated from M to Z will attend the Chicago game.

Golfers of the Pickaway Country club will have two contests during the Memorial Day week-end. A blind bogey tournament will be staged Sunday with merchandise prizes to be awarded winners. On Monday, Decoration Day, the Lorms cup will be sought. This is given to the golfer having the lowest net score, the handicap being deducted from his gross count.

If the weather continues as it has been the last few days, the Country club course will be crowded with golfers.

LATE STARTERS SEEK PLACES IN SPEEDWAY RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 28 (UP)—A handful of late starting drivers rushed out on the Indianapolis Speedway today to land the five remaining positions in the famed 500 mile race Memorial day.

Deadline for trial spins was 4 p. m. and still unqualified were several noted American drivers and Italy's star, Tazio Nuvolari. Cliff Bergere, of Hollywood, Billy Winn, Detroit, Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, Billy Devore, St. Johns, Kan., and Deacon Litz of Dubois, Pa., all scheduled last minute trials today.

Nuvolari, offered one of Joe Thorne's cars, finally announced that he had not found a suitable mount.

Louis Tomei of Culver City, Cal., led yesterday's five qualifiers with a 25 mile average of 121.594 miles per hour after failing in his first trial. Tomei jammed the throttle of his P. O. B. Perfect Seal special and halted his opening attempt.

Others to qualify yesterday were Emil Andres, dirt track graduate, 117.126, Ira Hall of Terre Haute, Ind., 118.255, Tony Willman, Milwaukee, Wis., 118.458 and Harry McQuinn, Milwaukee, 119.492. Hall, who said he is "about 50," is one of the oldest ever to compete in the "500."

Hepburn, second to Wilbur Shaw last year, said motor trouble may force him out of the race. His car, designed by Harry Miller, is having motor trouble and Hepburn was not sure whether it could be repaired before tomorrow's deadline.

ADMIRAL SEEKS TO PASS SIRE'S EARNING TOTAL

NEW YORK, May 28—(UP)—War Admiral tries today to outdo his illustrious daddy, Man O' War.

The four-year-old Admiral, at the top of his form when his $100,000 special race with Seabiscuit was called off, runs in the 52nd renewal of the mile and quarter Suburban handicap at Belmont Park.

And if little Charley Kurtsinger boots him home a winner, his total earnings will zoom past his sire's $249,465 mark War Admiral, who has won 10 straight since his last defeat when he was a two-year-old back in October, 1936, has won $231,625 in 16 starts. Today's race will be worth about $20,000 to the winner—and it looks like War Admiral all the way.

The Admiral's chief opposition is expected to come from a pair of horses which inhaled his dust last year—Pompoon and Masked General—and Aneroid, Suburban winner in 1937 and creator of the record time of 2:01 3-5 for the event. Five other horses—Piccolo, Caballero II, Snark, Strabo and Rex Flag—are entered.

War Admiral, 4-5 favorite in the overnight betting and scheduled to carry top weight of 132 pounds, whipped Pompoon three times last year and halted Masked General once. Pompoon was second favorite at 4-1; Aneroid was 6-1 and the General was 10-1.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Gabby Hartnett, Cubs' 37-year-old catcher, who hit two singles and a homer in leading Chicago to a 5-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

GRISSOM FINDS POSITION TAKEN BY YOUNG STAR

Johnny Vander Meer Beats Cardinals In Great 2-1 Contest

CINCINNATI, May 28—(UP)—A year ago the Cincinnati Reds came up with the National league's outstanding rookie southpaw pitcher in Lee Grissom, and today the club appears set to duplicate the feat with Johnny Vander Meer.

Off to a slow start, Vander Meer has had trouble getting into a winning stride but he seems to have hit it now. The stocky left-hander went 10 innings here last night as the Reds edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2 to 1 before a crowd of 21,550 fans.

Vander Meer, whose greatest difficulty has been his control, was "right" last night. He gave up only two base on balls and was in serious trouble only twice.

The Cardinals obtained only five hits and Vander Meer completely silenced the big bats of the great Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize.

St. Louis scored its lone run in the fourth inning when "Pepper" Martin doubled to open the round and took third on a wild pitch. He scored as Gutteridge fled out.

Held to four hits in the first six innings, Cincinnati knotted the score in the seventh when Billy Myers singled, advanced on Vander Meer's sacrifice and scored as Linus Frey doubled down the right field line.

St. Louis threatened in the ninth when it filled the bases with two out on a walk, an error and an intentional pass. Vander Meer then forced Mize to foul out to end the inning.

The Reds winning counter came in the 10th after two were out on successive doubles by Virgil Davis and Harry Craft.

Cincinnati was to go to Dayton today for an exhibition game with that city's entrant in the Mid-Atlantic league.

DUDLEY AND KY LAFFOON KEEP SLIGHT MARGIN

TOLEDO, May 28—(UP)—Ed Dudley and Ky Laffoon today sought to withstand another double challenge from a star-studded field to protect their lead in the fourth annual Inverness Invitational golf tournament.

Dudley and Laffoon managed to gain an even break in two matches yesterday, but still held a three point lead over their nearest competitors, Willie Goggin and Frank Walsh. Dudley and Laffoon have a Plus Six Rating, Goggin and Walsh, a Plus Three Rating.

Dudley and Laffoon were beaten 1 up by Jimmy Thomson and Tommy Armour and then regained the one point lost in that match by downing Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta by the same margin.

Today's pairings sent the leaders against Horton Smith and

Gabby's Ability Aids Chicagoans

NEW YORK, May 28.—(UP)—His face is tomato red and his shortcropped hair is streaked with gray. He's big and boisterous, and he puffs like a steam engine chugging up a steep incline. He laughs like a trouper and is pretty good at swearing, too.

His name is Charles Leo Hartnett, but he's known far and wide as "Gabby"—that is, to everyone except ball players who call him Leo. Without him the Cubs wouldn't be tagging at the New York Giants heels in the hot National league pennant race because he is the spirit of the Chicago team with his rough and ready play. His clenched fist shaking above his head in the tight spots is the symbol of the Cubs' new fighting spirit.

Again yesterday Hartnett, who at 37 is the third oldest player in the National league and the oldest playing every day, sparked the Cubs to victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-0. He hit a home run with two mates on base, and ripped out two singles, enabling the Cubs to move within two games of the idle New York Giants.

In 1,731 Contests

Hartnett has appeared in 1,731 games during his 17 years with the Cubs. If he catches 100 games this season he will become the first man in baseball history to catch over 100 games each season for 13 years.

Joe McCarthy among others ranks Hartnett as the greatest

MIAMI RUNNERS FAVORED FOR ANOTHER TITLE

ATHENS, May 28—(UP)—Miami, winner of the Buckeye conference track and field championship eight times in the circuit's 12 year history, was a top-heavy favorite to add another title to its long list in the annual meet here today.

In the preliminaries yesterday the Redskins qualified 10 men for the finals of two hurdle events and the 100 yard dash. Ohio University was next in line with nine. Ohio Wesleyan garnered five qualifying places, Cincinnati three, Dayton two and Marshall one.

The best performance of the trials was turned in by Jack Padley, versatile Dayton star, when he won the 100 yard dash in 9.9 seconds. Padley, voted the state's outstanding individual football star last fall, also qualified in the 220 yard dash.

Four records are regarded as in danger of being broken today. They were in the javelin throw, the 440 yard dash; the one mile run; and the mile relay.

The 440 was looked upon to be one of the meet's features. It figured to be a bitter three-man duel among Skolik of Marshall; Cunningham of Ohio U. and Seni of Miami.

Miami, the favorite in the team fight, scored dual victories over all other conference teams during the regular season.

Harry Cooper in their first match and against Sam Sneed and Vic Ghezzi in their second.

The standing of other teams in the $4,600 links meet follows: Smith and Cooper, plus two; Gene Sarazen and Dick Metz, plus one; Sneed and Ghezzi, minus three; and Lawson Little and Jimmy Demaret, minus six.

A team is given a "plus" for each hole it finishes "up" on an opponent, and a "minus" for each hole it is "down."

Evangelist Francene Taylor, of

Maintaining Personal Efficiency

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Daniel 1:8-16; 19, 20; I Cor. 9:24-27.

Daniel was a captive in Babylon when the overseer of the king's slaves brought food and wines, which Daniel's religion forbade eating. "Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself."

Instead he requested that he and his companions be given other food. "Let them give us pulse to eat and water to drink." On this simple diet they fared much better than did the others.

Paul wrote in a letter to his friends at Corinth advising them to live temperately in all things: "I buffet my body, and bring it into bondage," said Paul, as he urged self-control in personal habits.

Paul likened the Christian life to an athlete's training. "Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self-control." Eternal life is worth the same control. (GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 9:25.)

I Cor. 9:25—"Every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things."

School teachers in the city and county systems who took tests in connection with the recent tuberculosis control program, sponsored by the state department of health and the city and county health departments, showed no signs of active cases of the disease, Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, said Saturday.

There are no quarantines up in the county at the present time, Dr. Blackburn informed the county board of health at its regular meeting Friday afternoon. The last quarantine was removed May 2.

Maintaining Personal Efficiency

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Daniel 1:8-16; 19, 20; I Cor. 9:24-27.

Daniel was a captive in Babylon when the overseer of the king's slaves brought food and wines, which Daniel's religion forbade eating. "Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself."

Instead he requested that he and his companions be given other food. "Let them give us pulse to eat and water to drink." On this simple diet they fared much better than did the others.

Paul wrote in a letter to his friends at Corinth advising them to live temperately in all things: "I buffet my body, and bring it into bondage," said Paul, as he urged self-control in personal habits.

Paul likened the Christian life to an athlete's training. "Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self-control." Eternal life is worth the same control. (GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 9:25.)

Paul likened the Christian life to an athlete's training. "Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self-control." Eternal life is worth the same control. (GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 9:25.)

I Cor. 9:25—"Every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things."

Dr. Blackburn's Report Shows Health Splendid

School teachers in the city and county systems who took tests in connection with the recent tuberculosis control program, sponsored by the state department of health and the city and county health departments, showed no signs of active cases of the disease, Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, said Saturday.

Dr. Blackburn's announcement followed a report from the state department on the recent clinic for city school children and teachers held in the courthouse addition. No active cases of tuberculosis were found among the children examined.

There are no quarantines up in the county at the present time, Dr. Blackburn informed the county board of health at its regular meeting Friday afternoon. The last quarantine was removed May 2.

The health report of the commissioner presented to the board covered the period from April 1 to May 27. During the period 45 cases of measles were reported in the county and 185 in the Institution for the Feeble Minded at Orient. There were three active cases of tuberculosis found and two persons are now in a sanatorium.

During the period 14 persons were placed under treatment for the prevention of rabies. No cases of rabid animals have been reported to the department this month.

The report of Miss Margaret Hunsicker, county nurse, shows that she traveled 1,288 miles in her health work.

ROOSEVELT PLAYED CUPID

WASHINGTON—It was President Roosevelt himself who played the role of Cupid in the marriage of Secretary Harold Ickes and Miss Jane Dahlman.

The President not only gave them his beaming blessings but he was the only person in Washington who knew of their plan to get married. He also arranged personally for Ickes' passport and other details permitting him to cross the Atlantic to England and Ireland incognito.

Ickes first broke the news to the President early in May. The Interior chief came into the President's office late one afternoon. After carefully looking around to see that all the doors were closed, he said very solemnly, "Mr. President can you keep a secret?"

Roosevelt laughed heartily and answered, "Why, of course, Harold. What's on your mind?"

"I'm going to be married," was the startling reply.

The President smiled broadly. "Splendid, splendid, Harold," he said. "Congratulations to you and the lucky lady. Who is she?"

Ickes mentioned the bride's name. The President said he remembered her well and congratulated Ickes on his good fortune.

"When and where are you planning to get married?" Roosevelt then inquired. "The White House is at your disposal."

Ickes thanked him warmly but explained that he and his fiancée wanted a quiet marriage. She had already departed for Ireland but he was worried about being able to get away unnoticed.

"Don't think any more about it," the President enthusiastically assured him; "leave it all to me. I'll take care of everything."

And he did. He personally secured a cabin for Ickes, arranged for his anonymity on the ship, saw to it that there was no leak on the passport; in short, handled matters so that Ickes was able to land unnoticed in Southampton and travel from there to Dublin in his waiting bride.

That day was Sunday, May 30. And on that day, despite it being a Sunday, Secretary Hull summoned the German Ambassador to his private apartment in the Carlton Hotel.

A German warship had steamed up to the Spanish coast early the previous morning and without warning bombarded the defenseless city of Almeria, in retaliation for the alleged Spanish air-bombing of the German battleship Deutschland.

Secretary Hull therefore delivered a pointed lecture to the German Ambassador and expressed the emphatic hope that events in Europe might not lead to war.

"Come on up to the mezzanine!" he ordered, huskily, taking her arm.

"I have had no breakfast," she reminded him.

"I hope you starve! You are inherently mean, Ellen Dale!" She laughed long and happily then. Bill went back and ordered a waiter to bring them coffee and fruit juice to the mezzanine floor, which he saw was unoccupied this early.

They walked up iron stairs and sat at a writing desk, where an archway looked down on the main lobby.

Bill sighed heavily, and earnestly, before he said anything more to her.

"I wasn't joking when I called you last night on the phone," Ellen instantly turned serious too.

"I didn't think you were, Bill. And thank you. It is a great compliment to a girl, to be told that a man wants to make love to her."

"Um," Bill was giving minute inspection to a piece of the hotel stationery, as if it were something of tremendous importance. He turned it, studied the picture etched on the sheet.

"Ellen, as I say, I wasn't joking. But I've got to have time." "Yes, Bill."

"You understand, don't you?" "Yes, Bill," she replied, untruthfully.

"It may take a long time. I don't know what I will do yet." She waited. Bill stole a quick glance at her. The muted desk lamp illuminated her just right. He wanted to kiss her, to hold her and kiss her many times. He stirred in his chair and told himself "Damn!"

"It's not fair, really," he went on. "So I'm not asking for any promises or anything like that. I'll come to Hollywood. Or stay in Arizona, or wherever you are."

In fact I won't even hang around much. I'll go away. I'll get something soon if it kills me, Ellen. I've got some ideas. If you could write maybe once in a while, or something, it would help."

"Is this a riddle, Bill? Do you mind starting over? You haven't said anything I can understand yet. I thought you brought me here to start making love to me?" He didn't hear her.

As a matter of fact, he was deep in his own thoughts. At midnight he had decided definitely to resign his job with her and set out to make love. Before breakfast he knew that decision to be stupid, because he needed a job badly and realized that she must have a town

How Capacity of Liver Is Checked Nowadays

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
MORE AND MORE in our day diagnosis is becoming functional rather than anatomical. In other words, we do not wait to say "this man's heart is full of scar tissue" or "his kidneys are half-dead" (which is an anatomical diagnosis), but we try to find out what his heart is capable of doing, and how competent the kidneys are to perform their function.

In middle age, people who have a feeling of being run down and whose heart, kidneys and other vital organs are normal, are likely to suffer from a deficient liver function. In fact, the liver out of gear is liable to be the first step in the general degeneration of old age.

Functional tests of the liver are, therefore, being investigated with great interest and activity.

The liver is a complicated organ which performs a good many different functions. In the first place, it excretes poisons and end products of the body, particularly bile. In the second place, it is an essential organ in the utilization of sugar and starches in the body. It absorbs the sugars and starches from the intestine and changes them into what is called "glycogen" or animal starch, releasing this to the muscles on demand. It also has important functions in fat and protein nutrition. The liver also forms the substance, fibrinogen, which is essential for the clotting of the blood.

Single Test Inadequate
Any single test for liver function is, therefore, obviously inadequate, and up until recently we have had no test which really indicates the total functional capacity of the liver. The old levulose test measures simply the starch function of the liver, and dye tests have been unreliable.

I was interested recently in seeing Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Into beauty unforetold, Into all unthought-of gold. Heigh ho!

When the Spring has dipped her foot, Like a bather, in the air, And the ripples warm the root Till the little flowers dare, There is promise she will grow Sweeter than the Springs of old, Fairer than was ever told. Heigh ho!

But the moon of middle night, Risen, is the rounded moon; And the Spring of budding light Edifies into just a June. Ah, the promise—was it so? Nay, the gift was fairly gold; All the new is over—old. Heigh ho! —Harrison Smith Morris.

SIGN OF THE TIMES
A RAILROAD asks the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to quit. It is a small line, 250 miles long, the Quincy-Omaha-Kansas City, which is a branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The parent company, which bought it for about $3,000,000 in 1902, and has spent another $3,000,000 in paying operating deficits, asked the branch to cut itself off.

Business is so low on that line that lately there have been only 140 people on the payroll. Taxes, probably, cost more than wages or upkeep. It is a rather typical case.

The towns that have been served by the line in question are mostly served also by other railroads. Whether they are or not, it probably doesn't matter much, except for bulky freight more suited to railroad cars than trucks. For the most part such routes can be served pretty well by highways. In fact, most of them are. This is one of the reasons why they are dying.

Here is a great economic waste, a result of over-building, over-capitalizing and changing transportation. "How many more suckers are bleeding the main stems around the country and needing amputation?" asks a business writer. There must be scores of them. Overhauling the whole American railroad complex is one of the recovery jobs.

JOLT TO SMUGNESS
A WRITER in the New York Times thinks statistics are too one-sided. He suggests it would be an excellent thing for many sufferers from the jitters to see in print the statistics on such matters as these:

The number of people employed; the number attending baseball games and moving pictures; the number who escape being injured or killed in traffic accidents; the number who stay out of jail because they are honest and law-abiding; the number who pay their taxes, and the amount of ham and eggs consumed at breakfast in America on any given day.

There is something to be said, of course, for taking this view of the contemporary scene. On the other hand, haven't we been too smug in the past about our American high standard of living? Don't we need to know that some may be hungry while others are fed, that crime is increasing because we don't know how to stop it, and that some of our moral standards have shrunk almost to invisibility? If the gloomy statistics should jar us out of our complacency and set us to thinking, they would be well worth while.

READ THIS FIRST:
Bill Baron, a footloose Texan, has just been rescued from a band of Yaqui Indians, holding him for ransom, through a bold move on the part of Ellen Dale, Hollywood screen star. Ellen and Bill had been staying at the wealthy Montoya ranch across the Mexican border where they found themselves after a lucky parachute jump from Baron's plane during a storm. Ellen, enchanted by the atmosphere of old Mexico, finds herself growing much interested in Bill. Also rescued with Bill was Panola Montoya, the ranch owner's daughter whose invitation to ride with her led to their capture by the Yaqui. As they return to the ranch, Bill and Ellen, and Don Julio, their host, and his son, Felix, with a large following of Mexicans, in hot pursuit of the Yaqui. Ellen begs them to desist. Bill drives Ellen to Nogales after they say goodbye to the Montoyas, both promising to return later for a fiesta. Suddenly Ellen decides not to return to Hollywood and telephones Sid Bromberg, her producer, who is in love with her, not to come at a romantic spot and Ellen finds herself serenely happy. Ellen tells him she has decided to buy a ranch in Arizona to settle there and forsake her screen career. She asks Bill to manage the ranch.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:
CHAPTER 18
SLEEP IS a marvelous thing. It is second only to food. It is a miracle worker sometimes, and always a mind freshener. The deep thinking we did last evening and the profound conclusions we reached at midnight, nearly always seem a trifle shallow when the next breakfast is done.
Bill was up early and berating himself. He walked from the hotel half way up the rocky mountain against which the hotel snuggled, came back and devoured eight pancakes with syrup and told himself he was a fool. Just outside the dining room door again he came face to face with Ellen.
There, staring rather foolishly, Bill Baron felt blood swelling around his ears, then promptly blushed doubly because of that. He hadn't been so lacking in nonchalance in 10 years, and he wasn't any sheltered shy person either. It angered him momentarily that a little woman no bigger than a minute should so get his goat.
"Good morning!" Ellen greeted, and if ever a voice was pure music, hers was.
She stood there a vision of sweetness, waiting not dutifully or impatiently, but expectantly. She wasn't sure what she was expecting, but—"Well, here I am," she added. "Did you sleep well?"
Ellen's cheeks were plump anyway. Her face and lips had none of the half-smirking, half-modernistic, pseudo-smartness seen in current magazine illustrations and on the snootier shop window dummies. Ellen Dale was a girl from an apple orchard in springtime. A girl in a swing with birds nesting in the oak tree that bore the ropes. A bare-armed girl in a daisy field. A girl on a rock looking at her reflection in a lily pool. Sophistication? She could act it a little—when she had to in the musical movies that had brought her fame. But she showed none of it this morning, and she wasn't acting at all. Mr. William Daniel Baron stared at her for long seconds, and swallowed hard.
"Glor-y!" he muttered, finally, regaining some of his self-control, but still admiring her.
"I'm sure you must have seen me before, Bill," she suggested, restraining her smile.
He smiled back. "Yes, thanks. Did you?" He was answering her question of greeting, but so many seconds ago that she had almost forgotten it.
"You told me last night that you were going to make love to me. Can you begin now, Bill?"
If the poor Texan had been bewildered and bewitched a moment ago, he was even more so now. Love does not operate that way. That is, not along specific orderly lines. But Ellen stood with her hands primly folded, waiting, as if she expected his wooing to start with a definite physical form, like doing a dance or singing a solo.
"Come on up to the mezzanine!" he ordered, huskily, taking her arm.
"I have had no breakfast," she reminded him.
"I hope you starve! You are inherently mean, Ellen Dale!" She laughed long and happily then. Bill went back and ordered a waiter to bring them coffee and fruit juice to the mezzanine floor, which he saw was unoccupied this early. They walked up iron stairs and sat at a writing desk, where an archway looked down on the main lobby.

"You understand, don't you?"
"Yes, Bill," she replied, untruthfully.
"It may take a long time. I don't know what I will do yet."
She waited. Bill stole a quick glance at her. The muted desk lamp illuminated her just right. He wanted to kiss her, to hold her and kiss her many times. He stirred in his chair and told himself "Damn!"
"It's not fair, really," he went on. "So I'm not asking for any promises or anything like that. I'll come to Hollywood. Or stay in Arizona, or wherever you are. I won't make a nuisance of myself. In fact I won't even hang around much. I'll go away. I'll get something soon if it kills me, Ellen. I've got some ideas. If you could, write maybe once in a while, or something, it would help."
"Is this a riddle, Bill? Do you mind starting over? You haven't said anything. I can understand yet. I thought you brought me here to start making love to me?" He didn't hear her.
As a matter of fact, he was deep in his own thoughts. At midnight he had decided definitely to resign his job with her and set out to make love. Before breakfast he knew that decision to be stupid, because he needed a job badly and realized that she must have a town full of admirers back in California anyway.
But here he was reversing again—in her presence, he was again telling her he would refuse the job. And he hadn't have more than $100 to his name.
Well, that's the course he wanted, and by glory he'd take it! He looked across the desk. No more utterly beautiful girl had ever been created, he'd swear. To heck with her job. He wanted her.
"What I mean, Ellen, is that I have no money, and I'm going out to earn some, so I can talk with you and play with you in your own sphere. I mean—well, glory, I'm out of college, and loafing around too long, and dad's been trying to get me to settle down. I'll do it. I can do it in Texas somewhere, where I'm known. I'll make money, then I can come back to see you if it isn't too late. Don't you understand?"
"No, I don't," she was emphatic. "Since when has a man needed money to make love? I'm an idealist, Bill Baron. I believe in the story books I read when I was growing up. I mean—I still do! Don't you see? I have considerable money, Bill. It hasn't brought me any more happiness. Why should it come between us?"
"It would, though. It wouldn't matter if it were reversed—I mean, if I had the money and you were broke. But everybody'd say I was a fortune hunter."
"So! You gauge your actions by what people say?"
"Naw-w-w, now!" He slipped into a Texas-ism, drawing it powerfully.
You couldn't argue with a woman. Especially a pretty woman, especially one you are crazy about. And especially when you yourself aren't quite sure of what you are arguing.
William Baron was discovering—as countless other men have done—that the American vocabulary is inadequate to express one's emotions, and he realized that all the words in Europe and Asia wouldn't help either. The strange, confused yearnings of love, pride, sacrifice, combat, gentleness, anger, all had their grip on him. He would have been more at ease at, say, fighting a village of Yaqui Indians.
He was thus giving what best efforts he could toward trying to clear his mind when Ellen abruptly cleared it for him.
"Bill," she began, in deadly earnest. "You made a contract with me yesterday, to work for me as my foreman. You'll live up to your contract—or I'll have nothing to do with you, and you'll never see me again!"

How Capacity of Liver Is Checked Nowadays

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
MORE AND MORE in our day diagnosis is becoming functional rather than anatomical. In other words, we do not wait to say "this man's heart is full of scar tissue" (which is an anatomical diagnosis), but we try to find out what his heart is capable of doing, and how competent the kidneys are to perform their function.
In middle age, people who have a feeling of being run down and whose heart, kidneys and other vital organs are normal, are likely to suffer from a deficient liver function. In fact, the liver out of gear is liable to be the first step in the general degeneration of old age.
Functional tests of the liver are, therefore, being investigated with great interest and activity.
The liver is a complicated organ which performs a good many different functions. In the first place, it secretes poisons and end products of the body, particularly bile. In the second place, it is an essential organ in the utilization of sugar and starches in the body. It absorbs the sugars and starches from the intestine and changes them into what is called "glycogen" or animal starch, releasing this to the muscles on demand. It also has important functions in fat and protein nutrition. The liver also forms the substance, fibrinogen, which is essential for the clotting of the blood.

Single Test Inadequate
Any single test for liver function is, therefore, obviously inadequate. and up until recently we have had no test which really indicates the total functional capacity of the liver. The old levulose test measures simply the starch function of the liver, and dye tests have been unreliable.
I was interested recently in seeing Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
H. G. M.: "My child's legs, arms and face chap all winter almost to the bleeding point, making it necessary for her to wear long sleeves and stockings and have her face given nightly treatment. Is there any way I can make her skin more resistant to cold weather?"
Answer: Chapping is due to a dry, sensitive skin, which should be protected against cold and wind. There are a great many children beside this one who should wear stockings and long-sleeved underwear during the winter. There is no absolute prevention except constant care. Such skin should not be cleaned either often or vigorously. It should be oiled regularly, not only at night but also in the daytime. Soap and water should be avoided.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Poems That Live

ROBIN REDBREAST
Sweet Robin, I have heard them say
That thou wert there upon the day
The Christ was crowned in cruel scorn
And borne away one bleeding thorn—
That so the blush upon the breast,
In shameful sorrow, was impressed;
And thence thy genial sympathy
With our redeemed humanity.
Sweet Robin, would that I might be Bathed in my Savior's blood, like thee;
Bear in my breast, whate'er the loss,
The bleeding blazon of the cross;
Live ever, with thy loving-kind,
In fellowship with human-kind;
And take my pattern still from thee,
In gentleness and constancy.

Junior-Senior Classes Enjoy Annual Banquet

Snow White and Seven Dwarfs
Depicted

The junior class of Circleville high school transported their guests, the members of the senior class, to the land of make believe, Friday night, at the traditional banquet and dance.

The auditorium of Memorial Hall where the affair was held was decorated in a fanciful setting depicting the characters of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". The front of the hall directly before the stage was banked in green, the word "Seniors" being designed of rosebuds in the center, in colors shading from a delicate pink to a deep red. Here and there over the bank were the sportive little animals (cut-outs) such as were seen in the movie version of the fairy tale. At the left of the stage was the magic mirror, the evil spirit of which was seen on the surface in a ghastly green. To the right was the tiny cabin representing the home in the forest of the seven dwarfs, and cut-outs of all these lovable little men were seen in and around the artistic setting. High above the shell where the orchestra was seated was displayed the cover of an immense book centered with a life size figure of Snow White in all her beauty. Printed in large letters on this were the words Junior-Senior and the class years. A false ceiling of green shaded the lights and gave the softened effect as of the depths of a forest.

A three course dinner was served at small tables centered with pottery vases of roses. Program favors were small booklets of green with silver lettering, the senior class colors, with a tiny figure of Snow White peering around the covers.

Following the dinner hour, a short program was presented, Miss Annabelle Shellhammer, junior class treasurer, the only officer present, served as toastmistress. In welcoming the guests, she told of the great loss to the school which would come with the graduation of the class of 1938, mentioning the outstanding qualities of the athletes, the ability of the class in dramatics and the many other things which has distinguished its four years in high school.

Edwin Bach in behalf of the seniors responded and spoke regretfully of the fact that all members of both junior and senior classes were not present to enjoy the entertainment of the class of 1938. Miss Wanda Seymour played two piano solos fittingly choosing, "I'm Wishing" and "One Song" from the music of the Disney movie.

Lawrence Goeller responded with a toast as a member of the board of education. He reviewed briefly

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

VINES ARE great aids in covering unsightly places. They are also useful in providing shade for a back porch. There are many varieties of vines to choose from, but in selecting a vine be sure you get the right variety for a sunny or a shady location, as the case may be. Some vines do well in shade while others thrive only in the sun.

This Garden-Graph illustrates the use of a vine known as Dutchman's Pipe. This vine is perennial and one of the best for screening. It has large, round handsome leaves and produces yellowish-brown flowers which grow in the shape of a pipe, hence the name of the vine.

This vine is very resistant to fungus disease and insects. It can be grown in sun or shade, and it will even thrive in the midst of city smoke and dirt. It often grows to a height of 30 feet.

Because of the rampant growth

Living porch screen

of this vine, it should have plenty of nourishment in the form of fertilizer added to the soil at the time of planting or during its summer growth.

Tea was served in the garden at a table gay in a bright cloth and colored pottery. Mrs. Charles Gerhardt and Mrs. W. C. Baum presided at the table.

Many members of the society and their friends called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Noggle was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. S. G. Rader, Mrs. H. O. Grant, Mrs. M. T. Johnson, Mrs. C. B. Stofor, Mrs. Chester Valentine and Mrs. Richard Jones.

EDITORIAL

Memorial Day! What does it mean to us? Is it just a day when former soldiers get together to parade to the cemetery? Is it just another holiday when most business activity ceases? It is important because it's a day of picnics and out of door fun?

True enough, it sprang from a custom of the southern women who decorated the graves of their Confederate soldiers on a certain day in the Spring. The custom has since become national wide, and in most of the United States legal provision is made for Memorial Day. However, the date varies in some states. We not only honor our soldiers of the Civil war but also those of the American and World wars.

Hats off! Along the street! There comes a blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums, A flash of color beneath the sky: Hats off!

The flag is passing by! This scene will be re-enacted Monday, May 30, when we pause to observe the Decoration Day parade. Those who have actively participated in war will remember the experience as a dreadful one.

But we have not sufficiently honored our soldier dead by merely placing flowers on their last resting places or by uttering sweet words of eulogy. We must bear in mind constantly the horror and futility of war and earnestly strive to maintain the peace for which it seemed to them necessary to give their lives.

HISTORY WORKS ARE COMPLETE

As one of the last requirements of his history course for the year, every pupil taking either World history or American history was required to hand in a project. These projects could be based upon any subject that has a historical background.

Some are done in booklet form having very attractive covers and showing individuality. Others are wagons, replicas of those used by the pioneer. These were on display at the school exhibit during the Northwest territory celebration. Other articles requiring much time and skill, are reproductions of every-day equipment used by our forefathers.

A few of the outstanding ones are: A book by Emily Gunning composed solely of original poetry; Hilderburn Martin in his project describes fully the American Indian abodes, life, food equipment. An unusual contribution is a mining shaft made by David Hilyard and Robert Brehmer. Starting with the level ground and descending to the bottom of the shaft. It shows the different deposits of soil, rock, lime, gases, and other formations of the earth through which a similar tunnel runs.

VINES ARE great aids in covering unsightly places. They are also useful in providing shade for a back porch. There are many varieties of vines to choose from, but in selecting a vine be sure you get the right variety for a sunny or a shady location, as the case may be. Some vines do well in shade while others thrive only in the sun.

This Garden-Graph illustrates the use of a vine known as Dutchman's Pipe. This vine is perennial and one of the best for screening. It has large, round handsome leaves and produces yellowish-brown flowers which grow in the shape of a pipe, hence the name of the vine.

This vine is very resistant to fungus disease and insects. It can be grown in sun or shade, and it will even thrive in the midst of city smoke and dirt. It often grows to a height of 30 feet. Because of the rampant growth of this vine, it should have plenty of nourishment in the form of fertilizer added to the soil at the time of planting or during its Summer growth.

HISTORY WORKS

ARE COMPLETE

As one of the last requirements of his history course for the year, every pupil taking either World history or American history was required to hand in a project. These projects could be based upon any subject that has an historical background.

Some are done in booklet form having very attractive covers and showing individuality. Others are wagons, replicas of those used by the pioneer. These were on display at the school exhibit during the Northwest territory celebration. Other articles requiring much time and skill, are reproductions of every-day equipment used by our forefathers.

A few of the outstanding ones are: A book by Emily Gunning composed solely of original poetry; Hildebrand Martin in his project describes fully the American Indian abodes, life, food equipment. An unusual contribution is a mining shaft made by David Hilyard and Robert Brehmer. Starting with the level ground and descending to the bottom of the shaft. It shows the different deposits of soil, rock, lime, gases, and other formations of the earth through which a similar tunnel runs.

QUESTION: Will you please send me complete instructions for growing plants in water culture, rather than soil? I have never been successful in growing plants in soil and feel that this new method may be more satisfactory.

ANSWER: Although water culture plants have been highly advertised, we do not feel that as yet it takes the place of soil culture for the amateur gardener. If you still are interested, however, we will send a mimeographed leaflet giving you complete instructions.

The following questions are those which have actually been asked Mr. Ries in the last week, either by mail, by telephone, or personally at meetings. You too can have your questions answered by writing to this newspaper or direct to Mr. Ries, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

QUESTION: I am very much interested in lupins but have always had difficulty in growing them. Do you think that the new Russell lupins will be any easier to grow?

ANSWER: Although many gardeners are hoping that the Russell lupins will take more kindly to the Ohio climate than the older varieties, I see no reason to believe that they will be any more satisfactory.

As you know, some people are successful with lupins here in Ohio; most are not. Some gardeners believe the failure is caused by unfavorable reaction of the soil, others think it is lack of the proper inoculation of the soil. From our tests at the University, it appears that it is more the climate than either of these factors.

QUESTION: In driving through northeastern Ohio this past week, I noticed the many beautiful azaleas. I am wondering what is necessary to grow them in our home here in western Ohio.

ANSWER: The azaleas are one of the acid soil plants and, consequently, if you live in a section where the soil is not normally acid, or where the soil has been limited to counteract the acidity, it will be necessary to acidify it. We find where the soil is not naturally inductive to their growth, azaleas seem to do better in partial shade than in full sun. I would recommend that you plant them in a soil mixed with at least half peat moss; that you plant them no deeper than they were growing before, and that you mulch them with two or three inches of peat moss. In addition to this, each spring you can put on about one-half pound of sulphur per each square yard of soil area. This will keep your soil acidified.

QUESTION: Our garden club is interested in planting some trees and shrubs along the highway at the entrance to our town. I understand that free plants are available from the state for this purpose.

ANSWER: The state furnishes no free plants for any purpose whatsoever. May I suggest if you are interested in highway beautification that you write to Mr. Dallas D. Dupre, Landscape Architect for the State Highway Department, Columbus, Ohio, and tell him of your interest. There may be a possibility that this project might be included as one of the State Highway Department Roadside improvement projects. If not, they will at least be able to tell you what you should do and how to do it.

QUESTION: Is it too late to plant roses?

ANSWER: The only roses that can be planted satisfactorily now are those that have been growing in pots. You will find that they can be planted successfully almost any time.

QUESTION: What do you recommend as the best all-around pest control for roses? I have been using a spray where I have to mix three different together.

ANSWER: The spray that you have been using, if it is the one I think it is, is very satisfactory but also very expensive. Personally, I have found that dusting with roses, inasmuch as it needs to be done so often during the season. If you will buy a dust gun, which you can get for $1.25 and up, and keep it loaded with dusting sulphur, and dust them after every rain, you will find you will have very satisfactory control for most of the diseases.

If you care to make this a complete control, you can use nine parts of sulphur, one part of arsenate of lead, and one part of a pyrethrum or rotenone dust. This mixture can be purchased under several trade names. This not only will control your diseases but also insects that are eating the foliage, as well as the plant lice which are merely sucking the sap. May I suggest that you dust your roses once a week. This can be done any time during the day and it is not necessary for the foliage to be wet.

QUESTION: Will you please send me complete instructions for growing plants in water culture, rather than soil? I have never been successful in growing plants in soil and feel that this new method may be more satisfactory.

ANSWER: Although water culture plants have been highly advertised, we do not feel that as yet it takes the place of soil culture for the amateur gardener. If you still are interested, however, we will send a mimeographed leaflet giving you complete instructions.

Wreath To Be Placed At Soldier's Tomb

PARIS, May 28—(UP)—In ceremonies endowed with all the solemnity which Memorial Day represents, the graves of 300,885 American soldiers who lost their lives in the World War will be decorated Sunday regardless of where they are on French soil.

Led by Ambassador William C. Bullitt as the official representative of the American nation, Americans and French alike will assemble at religious ceremonies which will be held both in church and cemetery chapels and afterward place a small American and French flag and poppy on each grave.

In the morning church services, which the ambassador, Embassy and French officials will attend, will be held in the American Cathedral Church in Paris where the Very Rev. Frederic W. Beekman will preside. The Rev. Clayton Williams will conduct services at the American Church on the Quai d'Orsay.

Tribute To Unknown Soldier

Bullitt will then go to the Arc de Triomphe to place a wreath on the grave of France's Unknown Soldier and in the afternoon will attend services and speak briefly at the Suresnes cemetery near Paris on the Seine.

Elbert B. Dods, commander for the Department of France of the American Legion, has completed all arrangements so that groups of the legion in uniform and with color bearers will be present at each of the large cemeteries to participate in the ceremonies.

At Romagne cemetery near Montfaucon in the Argonne where 14,255 American soldiers lie, Dr. Horatio S. Krans, director of the American University Union, will be the principal speaker.

Laurence Hills, newspaper editor, will be the speaker at Belleau Woods where 2,287 graves are located and at each of the other cemeteries. Fere-en-Taidenois, with 6,012 graves and Thiaucourt where 4,152 white crosses stand as silent reminders of Americans who gave their lives—the same ceremonies will be enacted.

Isolated Graves Not Forgotten

Also the 250 graves isolated throughout the country, like that of Quentin Roosevelt, who lies buried in a wheat field near Chatcau Thierry where he fell in September, 1918, each will be decorated in memory of the supreme sacrifice.

Although each cemetery has an ample personnel to care for these hero dead, French children and their parents, many of whom have relatives in other cemeteries, lend their care for Memorial Day and attend the patriotic services where the blue and khaki uniforms mingle once again to honor their dead.

The French government not only will be represented at each cemetery by a small contingent of French soldiers which Prime Minister Edouard Daladier has ordered to participate, but local mayors and prefects also will take part in the significant ceremonies.

This is the first year that the ceremonies have been held on May 29 but as American Memorial services have been held in both England and Belgium on the Sunday nearest May 30 it was decided to follow that example here.

of honor between two of France's most noted playwrights over a theatrical argument ended in victory for Henry Bernstein, 67, above. The duel lasted only a few seconds and ended when Bernstein's opponent Edouard Bourdet, also a playwright, suffered a wrist wound. The encounter began with a quarrel between the two over presentation of Bernstein's latest play, of which Bourdet is managing director.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

A romance between a handsome young aviator, whose airplane is wrecked on a lonely South Sea island and an untamed native girl, who has never before laid eyes on a white man, forms the story of "Her Jungle Love," the new Paramount Technicolor production, which will have its first local showing starting Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre.

Ray Milland and Dorothy Lamour head the cast, making their first appearance together since "Jungle Princess," in which they scored so sensationally a season ago. Probably no two stars in Hollywood are more often associated with tropical romance than Milland and Miss Lamour, he having recently appeared in "Ebb Tide" and she in "Hurricane." In "Her Jungle Love" they are assisted by a cast of popular players, including Lynne Overman, who wisecracked his way through "Night Club Scandal."

AT THE GRAND

Leslie Howard of the stage and screen went on record recently as saying that he would like to quit acting entirely, so that he could devote his time and talents to direction.

But there is one character he would like very much to portray in films—William Shakespeare, England's greatest literary genius.

Howard played Shakespeare in a London stage production several years ago. It was not a success, he said, largely because the stage is too limited to present the Bard's vari-colored career on a large canvas.

Howard expressed his wish to bring the famous playwright to the screen while he was at work with Bette Davis in their current Warner Bros. film, "It's Love I'm After," in which they are co-starred with Olivia DeHavilland. This is a comedy due to open at the Grand Theatre Sunday.

"I think that a picture based on Shakespeare's life, if done properly, would be extremely successful," Howard told Director Archie Mayo. "It should be produced in England, however, to take advantage of the historic settings still intact."

There is a possibility, he said, that he may do a picture based on Shakespeare with his newly organized film producing firm.

At all tables in a duplicate the final contract on this deal was 3-No Trumps. The South players opened with 1-Club, North responded with 1-Diamond, South 1-Heart, North 1-Spade, South 2-No Trumps and North three. The contract was made with two overtricks at some tables and defeated at others, all depending upon how the South players handled the club suit.

The heart 6 was the opening lead, which was won with the A. The diamond K was allowed to hold, and West won with the heart K the return lead of that suit. He followed with a heart to the J. Now the club finesse was tried and lost to West, who led another heart to South's 10. Those who failed to make the contract entered dummy with the spade Q and took another club finesse which lost to West, who cashed another heart and led a diamond to East's A.

The contract was made by those who on the seventh trick laid down the club A, figuring they could afford to lose a club trick to East but not to West. Played in that way, only two tricks were lost.

Series of township meetings for the explanation of the 1939 federal crop insurance program to rural residents will open May 31.

They will be conducted by crop insurance representatives of the various townships and the members of the Agriculture Conservation Committee. Supervisor of the county program is Hugh F. Solt of Walnut township.

The insurance program offers protection to wheat farmers against loss of crop yields up to 50 or 75 percent of their 10-year average. Cost of the insurance varies from farm to farm but it will average 1.3 bushels per acre on good wheat land to insure for 75 percent on a 10-year average, and .8 bushels per acre for a 50 percent coverage. The premium rates are in bushels of wheat per acre and may be paid in kind or in cash.

All of the meetings will be held at 8 p. m. The schedule follows: May 31, Madison and Wayne schools; June 1, Salt Creek and Scioto schools; June 2, Jackson and Washington schools; June 3, Darby and Deer Creek schools; June 6, Harrison township at Duval school and Perry township at Atlanta school; June 7, Monroe township at the school, and Murlen township at the township house; June 8, Pickaway and Walnut schools; and June 9, Farm Bureau office.

ST. LOUIS, May 28—(UP)—

Vanity is responsible to a great extent for the number of bald-headed men in civilized countries, according to a thesis submitted to the Washington School of Medicine.

If men would adopt the type of hair grooming affected by savages they would not lose their hair, the thesis contended. The best style— from a preservation viewpoint—is one resembling an inverted soup-bowl, "hill-billy" effect, and yet the natural pattern of growth.

The worst style, for both men and women, is the pompadour.

William H. Carr, a barber, submitted the report to the school after nine years of study of thousands of heads of hair.

Carr said the common method of parting the hair and then brushing parts of it back either at an angle or in pompadour fashion forces the hair on the top and front of the head to lie in reverse, creating irritation. Nature then cuts off the blood supply and the hair falls out.

Women are affected the same way, but when a woman's hairline recedes to the point where her forehead appears too high, she pulls the hair forward, dipping it to hide the expanse. Unknowingly, she discontinues the violation of nature.

formed to redouble prosecution of the China war. It demonstrated, too, the terrific price in men and materials which Japan must pay for the fall of Hankow—a campaign expected to last for months and even if successful to leave the Chinese government defiant and in command of the vast interior provinces.

Withdrawal of the German officers who have been training Chinese armies appeared likely to be less disastrous to China than at first appeared. Reports circulated at Hankow were that French officers would replace the Germans, who are leaving on orders of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Czech Police Alert

Meanwhile, in Czechoslovakia, police and troops along the German frontier were watchful in preparation for the second of three municipal elections which have intensified the Czech-Nazi quarrel over treatment of the German minority. The balloting on Sunday again threatened tense feelings in the Sudeten area.

It was understood that the government had almost completed a three-point program for improvement of the position of minorities, which will be used as a basis for peace negotiations. It would provide a nationally statute, a language law and reorganization of local government in Slovakian areas.

STYLE WHIMSIES

Occupying a prominent place among the colorful beachwear fashions is the long beach coat of wheat colored terry cloth, collared and cuffed in plaid pink pique.

A delightful innovation for summer is the pantie petticoat of silk satin, which is made with a removable buttoned crotch.

It is predicted that real petticoats with rows of narrow lace ruffles will once again adorn the feminine form. And the camisole with beading will again be the vogue.

Sen. Pat Harrison Drafts Answer To Executive; Measure Is Law

dent's new drive for higher taxation of persons with comparatively large incomes.

The 1938 tax bill became law at midnight last night. Some hours earlier Mr. Roosevelt delivered the commencement address before 13 graduating students of the Arthur Dale, W. Va., high school speaking in the gymnasium, he denounced the bill for "abandoning principles" of just taxation.

Few Bills Remain

With the tax bill in effect, congress found itself suddenly almost to the adjournment tape. The relief-recovery appropriation, wage-hour legislation and a deficiency bill remain on the "must" list. They may be voted on and done with in time to get congress out of Washington by June 11 or earlier.

Mr. Roosevelt permitted the tax bill to become a law without his signature to dramatize his protest against congressional amendment of New Deal theories.

"By so doing," he told the high school students, their parents and friends and a nation-wide radio audience, "I call definite attention of the American people to those unwise parts of the bill I have talked to you about today—one of them may restore in the future certain forms of tax avoidance, and of concentrated investment power, which we had begun to end, and the other a definite abandonment of a principle of tax policy long ago accepted as part of the American system."

He called for improvement next year in the whole tax system, state, local and federal, and summoned "private capital and businessmen" to put steam behind "the ideals of ending child labor, or initiating the five day week, of shortening working hours, of clearing slums, of bringing electricity into homes, and of giving families the chance to build or buy a home on easy terms, of starting old age pensions and unemployment insurance."

He warned that un-American standards still exist "in almost every industrial community."

EDICT BREAKING GRAIN SQUEEZE GOES TO TEST

U. S. Commission To Hear Chicago Board Of Trade Case

WASHINGTON, May 28—(UP)—The right of the Chicago Board of Trade to break a "squeeze" in grain futures through trading orders to its members is scheduled for a test tomorrow before a three-man government commission.

The hearing was on motion of the Board of Trade to dismiss charges by Cargill, Inc., a Minneapolis grain company, that the board unfairly discriminated against it in an order to sell its corn holdings in September, 1937, to ease a market squeeze.

If the commission, composed of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper and Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, overrules the motion a date will be set for hearings on the charges.

The board asked that if a hearing is ordered that it be held in Chicago instead of Washington. The board said all its witnesses are in Chicago and that a Washington hearing would be expensive. Cargill filed opposition to a change.

The commission postponed indefinitely a hearing scheduled for May 16 on the charges after the board petition for a dismissal. The hearing on the charges, if held, will be before a referee appointed by the commission and instructed to report to it.

Grain men believe the decision of the commission on the power of the board to control trading by its members may have an important bearing on management of the country, especially as to authority to break squeezes.

The Cargill case grew out of a "corner" of the corn market where-in the Cargill Grain Co. of Illinois held contracts calling for approximately 6,000,000 bushels of old crop corn with only around 3,000,000 bushels available for delivery.

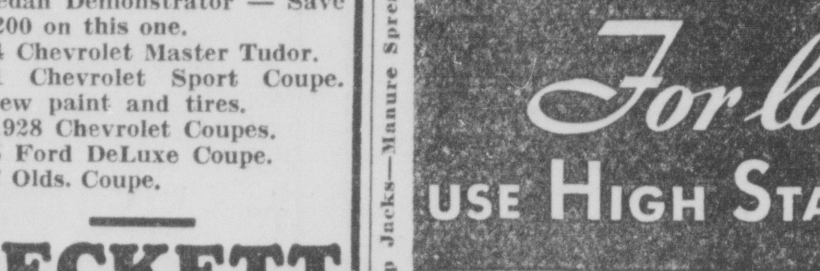

When it became apparent that a severe squeeze was to be exerted on delivery day, the business conduct committee of the grain exchange ordered Cargill to sell within a four-hour period 1,100,000 bushels of its holdings in order to ease the squeeze.

The Illinois Cargill company, a subsidiary of the Minneapolis firm, refused to sell, and the Board of Trade ordered all trading in September corn contracts halted on Sept. 23 and fixed an arbitrary settlement price of $1.10 1/2 a bushel.

DETROIT, May 28—(UP)—Officials of the United Automobile Workers threatened today to call a 24 hour general strike in Detroit in protest against alleged police excesses during a fight between pickets and police in front of the plant of the American Brass Co. Thursday.

The union said that it was considering such a strike "unless assurances are given that police will be ordered to cease acting as scab herders, strike breakers, and clubbers of union men and women."

Sixty-three pickets, sympathizers, and police were injured in Thursday's fighting. Two union sympathizers remained in hospitals today.

VANITY BLAMED FOR BALD PATES

ST. LOUIS, May 28—(UP)—Vanity is responsible to a great extent for the number of bald-headed men in civilized countries, according to a thesis submitted to the Washington School of Medicine.

If men would adopt the type of hair grooming affected by savages they would not lose their hair, the thesis contended. The best style—from a preservation viewpoint—is one resembling an inverted soup-bowl, "hill-billy" effect, and yet the natural pattern of growth.

The worst style, for both men and women, is the pompadour. William H. Carr, a barber, submitted the report to the school after nine years of study of thousands of heads of hair.

Carr said the common method of parting the hair and then brushing parts of it back either at an angle or in pompadour fashion forces the hair on the top and front of the head to lie in reverse, creating irritation. Nature then cuts off the blood supply and the hair falls out.

Women are affected the same way, but when a woman's hairline recedes to the point where her forehead appears too high, she pulls the hair forward, dipping it to hide the expanse. Unknowingly, she discontinues the violation of nature.

forced to redouble prosecution of the China war. It demonstrated, too, the terrific price in men and materials which Japan must pay for the fall of Hankow—a campaign expected to last for months and even if successful to leave the Chinese government defiant and in command of the vast interior provinces.

Withdrawal of the German officers who have been training Chinese armies appeared likely to be less disastrous to China than at first appeared. Reports circulated at Hankow were that French officers would replace the Germans, who are leaving on orders of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Czech Police Alert

Meanwhile, in Czechoslovakia, police and troops along the German frontier were watchful in preparation for the second of three municipal elections which have intensified the Czech-Nazi quarrel over treatment of the German minority. The balloting on Sunday again threatened tense feelings in the Sudeten area.

It was understood that the government had almost completed a three-point program for improvement of the position of minorities, which will be used as a basis for peace negotiations. It would provide a nationally statute, a language law and reorganization of local government in Slovakian areas.

Occupying a prominent place among the colorful beachwear fashions is the long beach coat of wheat colored terry cloth, collared and cuffed in plaid print pique.

A delightful innovation for summer is the pantie petticoat of silk satin, which is made with a removable buttoned crotch.

It is predicted that real petticoats with rows of narrow lace ruffles will once again adorn the feminine form. And the camisole with beading will again be the vogue.

A few hours earlier, Matthiesen, livid with rage, had tried to spring on Prosecutor Joseph V. The Matthesiens blamed themselves for the tragedy, as parents who had neglected to properly instruct their child.

F. D. R.'S ATTACK ON 1938 BILL TO DRAW REPLY

Sen. Pat Harrison Drafts Answer To Executive; Measure Is Law

dent's new drive for higher taxation of persons with comparatively large incomes.

The 1938 tax bill became law at midnight last night. Some hours earlier Mr. Roosevelt delivered the commencement address before 13 graduating students of the Arthur-dale, W. Va., high school speaking in the gymnasium, he denounced the bill for "abandoning principles" of just taxation.

Few Bills Remain

With the tax bill in effect, congress found itself suddenly almost to the adjournment tape. The relief-recovery appropriation, wage-hour legislation and a deficiency bill remain on the "must" list. They may be voted on and done with in time to get congress out of Washington by June 11 or earlier.

Mr. Roosevelt permitted the tax bill to become a law without his signature to dramatize his protest against congressional amendment of New Deal theories.

"By so doing," he told the high school students, their parents and friends and a nation-wide radio audience, "I call definite attention of the American people to those untold parts of the bill I have talked to you about today—one of them may restore in the future certain forms of tax avoidance, and of concentrated investment power, which we had begun to end, and the other a definite abandonment of a principle of tax policy long ago accepted as part of the American system."

He called for improvement next year in the whole tax system, state, local and federal, and summoned "private capital and businessmen" to put steam behind "the ideals of ending child labor, or initiating the five day week, or shortening working hours, or clearing slums, or bringing electricity into homes, and of giving families the chance to build or buy a home on easy terms, of starting old age pensions and unemployment insurance."

He warned that un-American standards still exist "in almost every industrial community."

EDICT BREAKING GRAIN SQUEEZE GOES TO TEST

U. S. Commission To Hear Chicago Board Of Trade Case

WASHINGTON, May 28—(UP)—The right of the Chicago Board of Trade to break a "squeeze" in grain futures through trading orders to its members is scheduled for a test tomorrow before a three-man government commission.

The hearing was on motion of the Board of Trade to dismiss charges by Cargill, Inc., a Minneapolis grain company, that the board unfairly discriminated against it in an order to sell its corn holdings in September, 1937, to ease a market squeeze.

If the commission, composed of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper and Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, overrules the motion a date will be set for hearings on the charges.

CHICAGO HEARING ASKED

The board asked that if a hearing is ordered that it be held in Chicago instead of Washington. The board said all its witnesses are in Chicago and that a Washington hearing would be expensive. Cargill filed opposition to a change.

The commission postponed indefinitely a hearing scheduled for May 16 on the charges after the board petition for a dismissal. The hearing on the charges, if held, will be before a referee appointed by the commission and instructed to report to it.

Grain men believe the decision of the commission on the power of the board to control trading by its members may have an important bearing on management of the country, especially as to authority to break squeezes.

The Cargill case grew out of a "corner" of the corn market where in the Cargill Grain Co. of Illinois held contracts calling for approximately 6,000,000 bushels of old corn with only around 3,000,000 bushels available for delivery.

When it became apparent that a severe squeeze was to be exerted on delivery day, the business conduct committee of the grain exchange ordered Cargill to sell within a four-hour period 1,100,000 bushels of its holdings in order to ease the squeeze.

The Illinois Cargill company, a subsidiary of the Minneapolis firm, refused to sell, and the Board of Trade ordered all trading in September corn contracts halted on Sept. 23 and fixed an arbitrary settlement price of $1.10½ a bushel.
